GREAT BRITAIN RAIL TIMETABLE

This national timetable is valid from Sunday 16 May to Saturday 11 December 2021 inclusive, and contains details of all train services operating in England, Scotland and Wales.

This definitive guide has been created by Brian Burkinshaw and the team at Fabrik, www.fabdigital.uk/showcase whose data and design experts have many years' collective experience of timetable production, stretching from the British Rail era right through to the present day.

Using our own in-house bespoke timetable software TRAINSET, timetable data is downloaded, edited and formatted to create individual tables.

As the world and industry looks to welcome and encourage customers back to rail, to have a meaningful national guide of all the journey opportunities available is essential. Whilst journey planners are an amazing tool, you need to know where you're going. A timetable overview will present you with ideas, choices, and locations you might not have thought of.

Users already familiar with the historic National Rail Timetable will see many similarities. Notes and symbols are the same, however there are detailed differences in the presentation and layout. The emphasis throughout has been to present the tables as cleanly as possible, whilst still retaining a familiar format. An opportunity has been taken to restructure and renumber some tables to better reflect the current service patterns and routings, however the overall geographic groupings remain the same. Where appropriate, tables are split into separate date periods for clarity, additionally, colour coding is used to identify services that do not run daily.

The data contained within this timetable was downloaded no earlier than 8 May and no later than 21 May 2021. Service levels will continue to evolve over the coming months and hopefully by the end of 2021 will have stabilised.

All pages are formatted as A4 pdfs, so can easily be printed.

Imminently, this Great Britain Rail Timetable will be available online with many additional features, including; Seat Finder tools and Smart Maps.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Barry Doe for his invaluable contribution to this project so far.
