

NOTES AND SYMBOLS USED IN THE TIMETABLE

Where space permits, all notes which are specific to any table will be shown at the bottom of each individual page, however if a table is so large then it may be necessary to show the notes on a separate page at the end of that table

Additionally there are other standard notes and symbols that are used throughout the timetable and these are shown below:

Station codes and symbols

Each station name is followed by the 3 letter code for that station. This is the same code that can be used for online journey planning searches

Interchange symbols

-  Interchange for London Underground services
-  Interchange for Docklands Light Railway services
-  Interchange for Tram/Metro services
-  Interchange for Eurostar services
-  Interchange for Airport
-  Interchange for Ferry services
(this may involve a bus link between the station and the ferry)

Minimum interchange time

The standard minimum amount of time recommended between changing trains is 5 minutes. At some larger stations this interchange time may be higher and at some smaller stations may be lower. Where this is the case the figure in the square indicates the time in minutes recommended at this station and this example 7 shows 7 minutes. For stations where no time is shown, the recommended minimum interchange time is the standard 5 minutes

Train ID

Train reporting IDs, eg 1A99, are shown as part of the column heading information. These IDs are not generally used publicly and are there more for the enthusiast

Train catering
